SCOUT BADGE GIVEN MAYOR ROBINSON AT CEREMONIES

Impressive Gathering Held at City Hall in Behalf of Anniversary Week

Mayor Spencer Robinson early this afternoon in a public ceremony on the steps of the city hall accepted with gratitude the rank of an Honorary Tenderfoot Boy Scout of America.

The three Glendale troops of scouts were lined up in parade formation each taking a distinct part in the ceremony. A large number of residents, interested in future citizenship, were present.

A short talk on the meaning of the scout badge was made by Scoutmaster Ben Robison of Troop No. 2, after which one was presented to Mayor Robinson. The certificate of membership in the national organization was presented to him by Eagle Scout Robert Searle of Troop No. 1.

The history of scouting was outlined briefly by Robert N. Taylor of 207 West Acacia avenue, pioneer scout leader of California. He also discussed "anniversary week" and the significance of the organization's twelfth birthday.

Speech of Acceptance

Mayor Robinson's speech of acceptance follows:

"The people of Glendale elected five councilmen at the last municipal election and they chose one of their members to be mayor of Glendale.

"Therefore, in electing the mayor of Glendale, an honorary tenderfoot Boy Scout, you have bestowed upon Glendale a great honor.

"I am going to wear this Scout badge so that all may see it, and when they see it, may the Scout oath come to their memory as it will to mine:

"'On my honor I will try my best, to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight'.

Owen C. Emery to Take Justice Oath Next Week, Is Plan

OWEN C. EMERY

Local attorney, who has been appointed justice of the peace for this township, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. M. Miller.

The oath of office as newly-appointed justice of the peace for this township could not be taken yesterday afternoon by Attorney Owen C. Emery of 106-A East Broadway.

A formality of the law requires Judge H. M. Miller's books to be audited by a county official before his successor steps into office.

A representative of the county auditor's office is expected in Glendale early next week. As soon as he has approved the records, Judge Emery will assume his official duties.

This morning Judge Emery admitted that he had received so many congratulations over his appointment that he has been unable to pay much attention to legal matters.

Until the cases, already set by Judge Miller, have been cleared from the docket, Judge Emery will be unable to fix a definite calendar.

BUNGALOW MADE OF GLASS! EH, WHAT? OH, YES! GLASS!

George H. Shields, Visitor in Glendale, Gives Details of His Unusual Plan

"People who live in glass houses shouldn't take baths!"

That proverb, coined perhaps by the Crane Plumbing company, may have to be revised in the near future.

George H. Shields of Columbus, Ohio, who is stopping temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown at 115 West Lomita avenue, has a plan to build bungalows of glass.

Yes, glass—that stuff that's put around water now-a-days.

The intricacies of glass making are an open book to Mr. Shields. He talks glibly of "silicates" and "borates" and "phosphates" as though he had 'em for breakfast every morning.

A new machine has been invented by Mr. Shields and tried out satisfactorily. This manufactures glass semi-automatically. By eliminating a great deal of tedious and expensive skilled hand labor, this machine is expected to speed production greatly and reduce the cost of glass making considerably.

To Continue Experiments

Samples of various kinds of glass made with his experimental machines are now in the possession of Mr. Shields, who calls attention to their high quality.

Upon his return to Columbus in March, Mr. Shields expects to do some more experimenting and then make arrangements for the manufacture of these machines and their lease on a royalty basis to glass factories. He figures that the profit will be considerable.

By the use of these machines, Mr. Shields believes glass can be manufactured cheaply enough to enable it to be used as a building material. It is his opinion that it can be used as a substitute for lumber, brick and tile with great advantage. To prove his connection Mr. Shields intends to

Edison, Celebrating 75th Birthday, Declares 'We Shall Soon Be Able to Hear Ants Talk; Says Long Period of Prosperity Is Coming

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 11.—Thomas A. Edison celebrated his 75th birthday today. He announced that the world is on the threshold of a great inventing era and America soon will enjoy a long period of prosperity.

"We soon shall be able to hear ants talk," he announced as he explained that he was working to improve the amplifier that spreads broadcast radio messages."

"Mr. Edison, who is the best man in the world today," he was asked.

"I do not know; I'm so busy in my laboratory that I haven't time to meet folks. I never go anywhere. I did meet Roosevelt once and I liked Teddy," he said as an after-thought.

"What about Henry Ford?"

"In one sense, Ford is a most remarkable man. In another, not so remarkable. I like Ford, but I wouldn't vote for him for President; no, I couldn't do that, but if we could find a job, say called director-general of manufactures, then I'd vote for him with all my heart."

Edison is convinced that the arms parley did some good.

"It's better than nothing at all" he explained. "It's all right to limit the navy, but here's an idea that I want to get over to the American people. I don't believe in militarism, but I do believe in war experimentation."

"Now don't get me wrong," he warned, raising his hands in an explanatory gesture. "What I mean by experimentation is that this nation should bend every energy to discovering new agencies of warfare.

"The next war will be fought with gas. We must continue our experiments in poisonous gases and we must try to turn out greater and bigger guns; then we will be up to the deviltry there is, and if another nation wants to try something, well, we're ready."

Turning from war to business, the world's master inventor said he was certain business is on the upward trend.

"I've been through five depressions. I'm not worrying. But we have got to make some further adjustments, for instance, in the field of wages. In some cases wages are too high and in others too low. Common labor isn't paid enough in some places. That's not right. Some men are holding wages down because they have the power."

BUS PERMIT BEFORE UTILITIES BOARD IN L. A. MONDAY

C. D. Gulick, City Traffic Head, to Press Glendale's Claims for Right to Operate

Another battle in Glendale's transportation campaign may be won Monday.

C. D. Gulick, traffic expert for the city administration, today is sharpening his wits preparing to appear before the Los Angeles Public Utilities Commission and show that board cause whereof it should harken to the plea of Glendale and permit the establishment of a bus line operating partially within the city limits of Los Angeles.

A formal petition has been filed with this body requesting permission to begin the operation of this bus line at once. This has now been in the hands of this commission for several days.

On account of pressure of other business, the Board of Public Utilities deferred the hearing from Thursday morning of this week until Monday morning. Both Mr. Gulick and City Manager W. H. Reeves expect to attend the session. They hope that the meeting will not be postponed again.

Purpose of Bus Line

The purpose of the bus line as explained in the formal petition is "to furnish inter-city rapid transit service to the people of the city of Glendale and for relief from the present high rates of the Pacific Electric."

These "high rates" are declared by Mr. Gulick "to be positively prohibitive."

In explanation of the reason application has not first been filed with the Railroad Commission of the State of California, the petition calls attention to the supreme court decision recently cited by Mr. Reeves as authority for civic action. It asserts:

"The court has stated that the city has the right to engage and operate public service utilities and engage in the transportation business without securing permission from

TWO TEAMS TIED IN ELK BOWLING

Second Round of Play Takes Place; Latest Figures on Individuals, Squads

The second round of play in Class A of the Glendale Elks' Scratch bowling took place last night. The Apffels, Gilhulys and Grenfells were the trio of winners, their victims being the Clarks, Fortunatos and Wards, respectively.

First place in the percentage standings of the league is now in the joint possession of the Gilhulys and the Apffels, each team having won four out of the six games to date. They are closely followed by the Fortunatos and the Grenfells, both having split even by winning three and losing three. The lead is due for a radical change next week, however, as the pace makers are due to lock horns with each other.

The bowling, as a whole, was a considerable improvement over that of the week previous, practically every match being extremely close and hard fought from start to finish. The Clarks, in particular, played in far better form than was exhibited on the opening night, as their total score of 1478 indicates. This was an increase of more than 100 pins over their previous mark.

How It Looks

Individual honors on each of the six teams were taken by the following: Gilhulys, Vichl, 216; Fortunatos, Fortunato, 226; Apffels, Apffel, 186; Clarks, Urich, 215; Grenfells, Fansett, 216; Wards, Timmons, 188.

Following is the standing of the teams for the first two rounds of play:

Team.	Won.	Lost.	Ptc.
Gilhulys	4	2	.667
Apffels	4	2	.667
Fortunatos	3	3	.500
Grenfells	3	3	.500
Wards	2	4	.333
Clarks	2	4	.333

Last night's team honors for total pins were as follows: Fortunatos, 1580; Gilhulys, 1566; Grenfells, 1563; Apffels, 1497; Clarks, 1478; Wards, 1473.

The rooms are open to any woman or girl, preferably the business women, who have privilege tickets. There are three classes of these tickets, the privilege ticket, which may be renewed each month, the sustaining membership ticket, which entitles the holder to the use of the rooms and also ten guest tickets, and the honorary membership ticket, which entitles the holder to the use of the rooms and to twenty guest tickets. The sale of these tickets is for the purpose of assisting in the financing of these rooms. The Business and Professional Women's Club is also planning to give a series of high class entertainments to further the proposition of financing this project."

FAIR WEATHER ON SUNDAY PREDICTED

Showers at Intervals Tonight and Clearup Tomorrow, Is Official Forecast

Old Sol, bright and cheerful, came out from behind the clouds about 11 o'clock this morning and began to makes faces at the rain gauge in the custody of H. E. Bartlett at 417 West Myrtle street. This registered a moistness of .80 of an inch in the 24 hours since yesterday noon. The whole amount of the storm was 3:13 inches. The season total so far is 21.97 inches. This is over three times the amount which had fallen at this time last year.

Rain at intervals tonight, followed by fair weather on Sunday—that's what the weather man says today, and he ought to know, eh?

A dispatch to The Glendale Evening News over its International News Service leased wire says that, working with feverish haste in the overflow waters of the Santa Ana river to save their homes and livestock, more than a score of ranchers living in the Talbert district, six miles south of Santa Ana, today dug deep channels to release flood waters which covered an area three miles square.

Protecting Anaheim

A crew of twenty men was put to work by the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce at a danger point a mile and a half north of the city of Olive.

It was feared that the temporary levees constructed there after the last flood might give way and permit the Santa Ana river to sweep down on Anaheim.

The flood conditions are the result of the warm rains melting snow in the mountains, according to flood experts and weather observers.

HARVARD'S QUINTET BEATS GLENDALE BY 23 TO 8 SCORE

Local Heavyweights Crippled and Fail to Put Up Their Usual Good Game

Glendale high school's heavyweight basketball team, playing under crippled conditions, yesterday afternoon were defeated by the Harvard Military quintet of Los Angeles by the lopsided score of 23 to 8. The game was played in the local gymnasium and was attended by more than 200 enthusiastic rooters.

The contest was only a practice affair and the result does not affect Glendale's standing in the Central league, yesterday having been a "bye" for the Red and Black athletes.

The local's lineup, which was kept intact throughout the game, was appreciably weakened by the absence of Vic Colburn and Wilford Cline, two of last year's veterans. These two athletes were ineligible to participate yesterday through the rulings of the C. I. F. which state that a player cannot perform on two teams within one week. The two stars competed on the lightweight team against the Alhambra Midgets last Tuesday.

Defeat Looms Large

From the initial blowing of the referee's whistle it was evident that Glendale was in for a licking, although at no time did Coach Butterfield's charges "lay down" on the job. The game was fast and snappy from start to finish, with the militants getting a little the best of the breaks.

The first period was a walkaway for the visitors, the score at the end of the half being 12 to 2. The going was nearer even in the final stanza, the locals scoreing six points to Harvard's eleven.

Ray Goss, playing in his initial contest of the season, was the individual star for the locals, his work at running guard being one of the features of the contest. Goss was barred from playing prior to the beginning of the present semester on account of certain ineligibility rulings. He replaced Rinstad, who is temporarily on the shelf with blood poisoning in the knee.

How They Went In

The lineups in yesterday's game were as follows:

Glendale — forwards, McManus and Goetz; center, Warthman; guards, Goss and McIver.

Harvard Military — forwards, Breene and Cary; center, Dozier; guards, Harvey and Wiseman.

GLENDALE HI-Y CLUB WINS BANNER IN STATE CONTEST

Local Boys Get Great Honors for Second Time; Set New Record for Southland

Again the Hi-Y club honor banner for the state of California has been awarded to the Glendale organization.

Not satisfied with winning the honor during the month of December, the combined efforts of the five local groups resulted in the honor falling upon Glendale for the month of January. Never in the history of the award has a southern California group won the banner two months in succession. On only one other occasion has it ever been awarded to a team in the southern section of the state. The award then went to the Redlands Y. M. C. A. group.

Inspired by this second great achievement, the Glendale boys are endeavoring to make another supreme effort to retain it for the month of February. They are conducting their services with that intention. In the event of a third success, the officials of the local group will attempt to secure its permanent possession.

Competition Is Keen

Eighty Hi-Y clubs scattered over the entire state of California furnish keen competition for the banner. Their activities represent the combined efforts of young men between the ages of 14 and 18 years.

The activities of the Glendale groups included educational trips to Los Angeles, speeches in churches, raising funds to finance their organization, and numerous social functions.

Ralph A. Cole, state boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will be the principal speaker at a banquet of the Hi-Y Leaders' club in the First Presbyterian church tonight.

MRS. W. E. HILTON HOSTESS

A valentine lunch was served at noon today by Mrs. W. E. Hilton who was hostess at her home, 456 West Milford street, to the members of the Kensington Club of Mint Canyon. Valentine games were played and the place cards and table decorations were hearts.

MABEL NORMAND FAILS TO GIVE NEW LIGHT ON CRIME

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—After a four-hour conference late last night between Mabel Normand, screen star, and District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine, which officials announced had shed no new light on the slaying of William Desmond Taylor ten days ago, investigators are continuing their tireless probe of new clues, including the recovery late last night of a blood-stained cap, which has been partially identified as the headgear worn by the man seen leaving the Taylor home the night of the murder. The cap, light brown in color, but made in such a manner that it might have given the appearance of a plaid, was found last night in the possession of Walter Thiele, who was taken on suspicion of a burglary committed the night Taylor was shot. On the visor of the cap officers found a blood-stain. The prisoner was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of this coincidence or how the cap came into his possession. Investigators today are questioning the man further in an attempt to ascertain if he might have any knowledge of circumstances sur-

MYSTERY ENDED; 'NISH' AT HOME

Taxi Man Takes Friends to San Diego; Denies He Is Dead—or Even Ill

Members of the Amalgamated Order of Sherlock Holmes can now resume their knitting.

The "Nish" mystery, which kept "the heart of the business district in a turmoil of excitement" for three days, was solved this morning with the appearance upon the scene of none other than Nishon Pashikian, himself.

At the very moment that Mrs. Louise Stocker of the C. & S. cafeteria, 111 North Brand boulevard, was asserting her positive belief that "Nish" had been blackjacked on some lonely road, despite all rumors to the contrary—at that very identical moment Mr. Pashikian was in his room at the Central hotel, 122-A North Brand boulevard, and dreaming of his recent outing at the Tujunga race track.

Refuses to Starve

The discovery of "Nish" came about 9:30 o'clock this morning when pangs of hunger inspired Mr. Pashikian to report for breakfast. He spent the rest of the morning among his friends denying the report that he had been murdered. There was considerable of a smile on his face as he mentioned the fact that he had "one wonderful time" during his absence.

After remaining in Los Angeles Tuesday night with his newly-arrived friends from Chicago, Mr. Pashikian was induced to pilot them to San Diego the following morning. A pleasant outing was enjoyed there and the party returned to Los Angeles yesterday evening.

Mr. Pashikian is deeply appreciative of the interest shown in him by members of the American Legion and his friends in Glendale. He has promised to leave word behind next time he leaves on an over-night excursion.

Mrs. W. H. Boothby Is Hostess at Card Party

Mrs. W. H. Boothby of 348 West Lexington drive entertained with a card party at her home Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Harry Fowler of Chicago, who is spending several months at her winter home in La Crescenta. Mrs. Boothby was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. J. Morgan.

The guests included Mrs. Fowler and niece, Miss Fowler, of Chicago, Mrs. James Apffel, Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. George Pratt, Mrs. Frank Gorman and Mrs. Tom Watts of Arcadia, Mrs. Avery, Mrs. John Torrey, Mrs. H. V. Smith, Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. William Hooper, Mrs. Jack West and the hostess. High score was made by Mrs. Smith. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

LIKE FIGURES? TRY THIS FORD STORY; IT GOES FAR

Edward S. Lawrence Is Again Juggling Numbers; Here Is Very Latest Effort

Henry Ford as a financier is a "piker."

Anyhow that's the opinion of Edward S. Lawrence, assistant manager of the local Ford agency.

You've guessed it—he's been juggling numbers again. However, he says his brain isn't a bit fagged because he is still familiar with the multiplication table.

"Ford owners are the greatest travelers in the world," remarked Mr. Lawrence. "It is estimated that the average driver covers 10,000 miles each year.

"That means that 'Fordites' pilot their 'Henrys' about 50,000,000,000 miles a year, altogether.

"According to the engine numbers the Ford factory has turned out about 5,700,000 cars. The present price of the cheapest car in Glendale, the roadster, is $447.97, and the highest priced car, the sedan, is $787.42. A general average price probably would range around $550. At that figure the selling price of the Ford output would be about $313,500,000.

There's More to Kum

"The number of cents? Well, I did know, but I forgot."

"The present model has been on the market since 1908. That is thirteen years. Now supposing Fords had only traveled half as much in the first six and a half years as during the last six and a half years. At that rate they would have run about a total mileage of 325,000,000,000 miles.

"The Interstate Railroad commission used to think that two cents a mile was a fair rate. Goodness knows what it considers a fair rate now. However, taking that as a basis, Ford owners would have been obliged to pay $3,250,000,000 for transportation.

"Now, if Henry Ford had only given his machines away and charged a flat rate of two cents a mile for their use, he would have been away ahead of the game. He could have paid the market price for his machines and made a net profit of $2,836,500,000—or $28,200,000 a month. Some taxi revenue.!"

MUSIC SECTION OF CLUB HEARS VERY CHOICE PROGRAM

Mrs. Frank Arnold's Home Is Scene of Gathering and Entertainment Pleases

At the meeting of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. C. L. Marlenee is curator, and which was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Arnold, 211 East Lomita avenue, one of the choicest programs of the season was greatly enjoyed by the members and guests present, and was arranged by Mrs. Warren Roberts.

The program followed a short business session and included a most interesting and instructive talk by Mrs. Paul Hoffman on "Modern Composers and Music." This was followed by a group of charming piano selections by Helene Constance Morgan, "In Autumn," "Etude" and "Cheve." The sweet voice of Mrs. Nana King Custer very pleasingly interpreted "Marguerite" (White), "At Dawning" (Cadman), "Ave Maria" (Shubert) and "Vale" (Russell). She was accompanied by Mrs. Enona Hopkins on the harp and Miss Neva Chilbig on the violin. The splendid voice of Mrs. Alice H. Farish was heard to advantage in her selections of "In the Woods" (Bizet), "Life's Paradise" and "The Morn's Wind" (Branscombe). She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Spencer Robinson.

Another delightful number on the program was a group of two selections by the Arion Trio, which includes Mrs. Enona Hopkins, harpist; Miss Mamie Smith and Miss Neva Chilbig, violin; "Barcarolle" (Offenbach) and "Berceuse." Solo numbers were also played on the harp by Mrs. Hopkins "In the Twilight Hour" and an encore number which were both very charming.

The floral decorations used throughout the house were large bowls of yellow acacia blossoms. After the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which refreshments were served.

President Appreciates Efforts for Economy

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—President Harding appeared before the semi-annual meeting of the business organization of the government and expressed his appreciation for the efforts made during the last six months to cut down expenditure in face of the "unresisted flow of extravagance and the tendency to drift the ship of state on the rocks of bankruptcy.

"Perhaps other governments," the president said, "were brought to greater strains of expenditure and more difficult financial straits through their more intimate and heavier burdens of war. Notwithstanding that fact, and that we suffered less comparatively, I doubt if any government in the world has made a more persistent and conscientious endeavor to cut down its expenditures and institute economies and restore sane and normal ways again."

More than a hundred chiefs of government bureaus and departments took part in the meeting, which was presided over by Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, the director of the budget. Dawes made a report showing that a saving to the government of more than $100,000,000 had been effected during the first half year of the new bureau's operation.

Government Merciless, Says Machinists' Head

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Branding the government as the "most merciless, inhumane and unreasonable" of all employers, William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, declared that he would carry to the White House his protest against the "unethical action" of the navy department in peremptorily dismissing 20 per cent of the personnel of the navy yards.

Sixteen thousand machinists in government yards will be affected by the order of the secreteary of the navy, and, sympathetically, it will affect 35,000 men in other trades, and ultimately militate against the well-being of more than 100,000 workmen engaged in private plants, Johnston declared.

"Without a word of warning, without a material or sentimental care for its workmen, the government has swept into the growing army of the unemployed thousands of honest workers," Johnston said.

"This is the most heartless thing I have witnessed in thirty years' experience in industrial life. Even private employers, engaged in business for profit, would at least be humane enough to give some advance notice to men about to be dismissed wholesale, or permit them to continue until the situation had eased perceptibly.

"At the Washington navy yard, where 1500 machinists are employed, all of them reported to work yesterday morning, unsuspecting they would be dismissed and on arrival at their benches they were summarily notified that they were to go home and not report for work until the thirtieth of June."

Johnston declared he is negotiating today with the assistant secretary of the navy to secure easement of the department's drastic discharge order. If no promise of action is forthcoming, he said, the matter will be presented to the secretary of the navy and in all probability direct to President Harding unless the order is rescinded or modified greatly.

THE SECURITY

Did you ever think how absolutely sure your Life Insurance contracts are? They are guaranteed by all the assets of the companies issuing them, which assets are invested in the bonds of the U. S., of municipalities and railroads, and first mortgages scattered in every section of the country.

NOTHING CAN BE MORE SECURE

A crop failure or disaster may affect individual localities, while prosperity in another will maintain a good average. Your bonds may default in interest and decline in price; stocks may be absolutely worthless, real estate may have a bad slump, but your Life Insurance is always worth 100 cents, either as a claim or as reserve—never discounted 1-10 of 1 per cent.

Do you fully appreciate this?

Newlyweds Guests of Honor at Social Time

A farewell party and miscellaneous shower was given last night to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kolts, formerly of Glendale, and who were married this week in Los Angeles, by the members of Chapter BA, P. E. O., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold, 211 East Lomita avenue, with about fifty present. The home was beautifully decorated in the P. E. O. colors of yellow and white. The dining room was further decorated with red hearts and cupids.

The program for the evening was provided by a burlesque meeting of Chapter BA, in charge of the president, Mrs. Madeline Kelley, and during which the bridegroom was initiated into the B. I. L.'s, which was concluded by both the bride and bridegroom being blindfolded and instructed to follow the guard by the sound of cymbals, which consisted of a pair of sauce-pan lids. After much maneuvering they were led into the dining room and the blinders were removed. Here they beheld the dining table laden with beautiful and useful gifts from the members of Chapter BA.

This mock initiation was followed by a delightful program of music and games, including vocal numbers by Mrs. Frank Arnold and Mrs. Greely Kolts, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Kolts, readings by Miss Dorothy Williams and a beautifully executed dance by Margaret Brown. The refreshments were also carried out in the yellow and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kolts were showered with good wishes from the chapter members. They are leaving for Houston, Tex., where another surprise awaits them at the home of Mrs. Kolts' mother, Mrs. E. H. Willisford, in the form of a chapter gift, consisting of a hand-painted P. E. O. plate and silver spoons. Mrs. Willisford was a charter member of Chapter BA and her daughter is the first bride of the chapter.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK FOR STUDEBAKER CAR OBSERVED

Number of Records Are Made In Past Year; Outlook Is Reported Encouraging

Last week was considered anniversary week among Studebaker dealers throughout California, for it was just a year ago that the Studebaker light six started on its record breaking career and wound up with all of the important road records to its credit, it is announced. First it set some new marks between Los Angeles and San Francisco for the one-way and round trip and then the following month gave further proof of its endurance and stamina by setting a new mark for the run across the deserts between Los Angeles and Phoenix, Arizona.

During this period the sales of Studebaker cars began to break records. Month after month the sales mark went higher until Studebaker led in sales in California over all other makes of six cylinder cars, it is stated.

Reports from the Studebaker factory show that in 1921 Studebaker produced more sixes than were built of any other make. With the industry turning out but sixty per cent as many cars as in 1920 Studebaker increased its production and sales to 129 per cent of what it was for the previous year.

In Southern California

In Southern California the same condition prevailed to even a greater degree. Deducting the registration of Studebaker and Ford cars from the totals of all cars sold in 1920 and 1921 a loss of registrations during 1921 is shown amounting to 1751 cars. Studebaker showed an increase of nearly 2000 cars and Ford had 8,300 more while there were only 8515 more new cars registered for the past year, it is stated.

Last January broke all previous January records in the Studebaker organization of southern California by exceeding the best previous month's business in 1921 and the first month of the year is almost invariably a poor month comparatively.

This encouraging situation is due, according to S. C. Packer of the Packer Auto company, to the active enthusiasm of Studebaker owners who have constantly reported satisfaction from the performance of their cars and S. C. Packer states that the better performance of the 1922 models is sure to break last year's sales records.

rounding the murder of Taylor. It was learned today that the district attorney's corps of investigators have under surveillance a man whose identity is being kept strictly secret, but who is believed to know more about the case than he revealed at conferences at the district attorney's office. Miss Normand left a sick-bed, her friends said, to go to Woolwine's office. After the conference lasting several hours, she appeared to be calm and composed, and smilingly allowed camermen to "flash" the scene as she walked to the elevator on the eleventh floor of the Hall of Records building. District Attorney Woolwine declared today that while every phase of the case was discussed during his conference with Miss Normand, nothing was obtained which shed any important light on the tragedy. The prosecutor stated that the screen star, who was the last known person to have seen Taylor alive, appeared to have made a frank statement regarding her friendship with the slain director and her final visit to his home shortly preceding the murder. "Miss Normand talked freely and for a long time while we discussed the case informally," said Woolwine. "She is a very bright girl and seemed perfectly willing to help in running down the person who killed Taylor. There was sincerity in her tone when she made her statement in the presence of a shorthand reporter."

SENATE COMMITTEE IS MAKING SURVEY OF TREATIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A preliminary survey of the work of the armament conference and a study of the seven treaties which are the tangible results of its deliberations were begun today by the senate foreign relations committee. Although consideration of the treaties begins under propitious circumstances which senators of both parties attribute largely to the favorable impression created by the address of President Harding in submitting the pacts, it was indicated today that there would be no undue haste in securing the senate's ratification of the new international agreements.

ROMANCE OF JAPAN IS REVEALED IN WILL CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—A romance of the Land of Cherry Blossoms in which an American attorney and student of Orientalism wedded an aristocratic Japanese miss was brought to light by the contest brought against the will of the late Henry Pike Bowie. His stepson filed suit alleging Bowie had left $100,000 to a Japanese woman and her two sons because they had promised to have his memory deified by a Shinto temple. Louis P. Dunkley, attorney retained by the Japanese heirs, revealed that Koma Hirano, mentioned in the will, was Bowie's bride and the two sons were his sons. Dunkley added that a shrine was erected to Bowie's memory.

LIQUOR FOUND IN TAYLOR'S HOME PROVES PUZZLE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—The private stock of liquor, declared to be of excellent brands and almost rare in the days of prohibition that was found in the home of William Desmond Taylor, murdered film director, today furnished a puzzle for government officials. The liquor, under the strict "dry" law of the country, cannot be turned over to heirs of the slain director and may have to be destroyed. Public Administrator Frank Bryson brought the matter to the fore by applying to local prohibition officials for a permit to remove the liquor stock from the Taylor residence to his office. It was stated the permit likely would be granted but that the liquor may have to be destroyed later unless an order is issued in federal court permitting its donation to some hospital for medical purposes.

"We realize the popularity of the Ford now that we are handling Ford parts," remarked H. M. Butts of the Monarch Auto Supply company, 121 South Brand boulevard, this morning, commenting on the fact that the volume of business in their new lines had more than equaled their expectations. This department of their store is now in charge of O. W. Rhodes, 466 Hawthorne street, who was connected with the Denver assembly plant and later with the local Ford agency.

NO FURTHER RAIDS BY SINN FEINERS OVER BOUNDARY

Kidnaped Ulsterites Removed to Balbay, Where They Are Guarded by Thousands

BULLETIN

DUBLIN, Feb. 11.—Feeling between the Orangemen and the Sinn Feiners is running high along the Ulster frontier but no further fighting had been reported this morning.

The Irish provisional government has issued a decree signed by Michael Collins, minister of finance, granting general amnesty to "all members of the British military, naval and police forces for acts of hostility to the Irish people."

This decree was to reciprocate the British grant of amnesty to the Sinn Feiners.

An armed band held up a police lorry near Lissard, relieving the occupants of their rifles.

By DAVID M. CHURCH
Written for International News Service

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The threat of border warfare between Irish Republicans and Orangemen along the Ulster frontier was somewhat allayed today by a pacific announcement by Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann and a power in the Irish provisional government at Dublin.

"We are sadly handicapped at the present time," said Griffith. "Until the bill (submitted to the House of Commons yesterday) passes we have little executive power, but we will do our utmost to maintain order and discipline. We do not admit that the Irish Republican army was responsible as an official body for the disorders on the Ulster border. I am fully confident that a successful settlement will be reached.

(The bill referred to by Mr. Griffith invests the Irish provisional government with all the powers granted under the British peace treaty).

No further raids by Sinn Feiners across the Ulster boundary had been reported this morning.

Guarded by Thousands

The following despatch was received from Belfast at 10 o'clock:

In view of the attempt at rescue, the Sinn Feiners have removed the kidnaped Ulsterites southward to the neighborhood of Balbay where they are being guarded by thousands of members of the I. R. A. There is intense activity on the part of the Sinn Feiners. They are drilling all day long. Uniformed men are sent out in scouting expeditions and motor cars scour the roads to prevent possible attacks or attempts at rescue."

In addition to the 5,000 police massed along the Ulster border to prevent further raids and kidnapings, the British have shifted heavy forces of troops into Ulster, including the following:

First West Yorkshire infantry, First Royal Sussex, Fourth Worcesters, First Royal Warwick, and First Essex

Use Guns to Quell Riots

BELFAST, Feb. 11. — Machine guns were used by the police today in quelling rioting between Orangemen and Sinn Feiners. Fighting broke out when mobs attacked workmen on their way to places of employment. Police opened fire with service pistols, but this proved ineffectual and machine guns were brought up. There was much disorder during the night. Mobs gathered in defiance of the curfew regulations and gave battle when the police tried to disperse them.

Great Britain has promised to send four battalions of British troops into Belfast to protect the city from Irish Republicans, according to a statement from Sir James Craig, Unonist premier of Ulster.

Craig said that no time limit had been set for the release of the Ulster hostages seized by the Irish Republicans and that he would confer with the police and military authorities before taking any decisive action.

Will Not Be Freed

Word has been received from headquarters of the Irish Republicans that there will be no more raids over the Ulster territory but that Orangemen kidnapped in Ulster will not be released until the officers of the Irish Republican army seized near Londonderry are released by the Ulsterites.

A commandant of one of the northern divisions of the Irish Republican army and his staff were all seized by Ulster Unionists last Sunday while on their way to Derry to a football match. When word of the seizure of these men reached the headquarters of the Republican troops in northern Leinster, reprisal raids were organized.

More special police are being recruited here and the military police authorities are preparing for any eventuality.

There was considerable shooting in the streets during the night and one or more bombs were exploded but no casualties were reported.

'The Song of Life' Coming to T. D. & L.

A gripping human interest story, an all-star cast, an elaborate and costly production. These are some of the things which are said of "The Song of Life," the First National attraction which is coming to the T. D. & L. theatre Sunday.

In addition to "The Song of Life" there will be the special comedy, "Love and Doughnuts," featuring Ben Turpin.

As the musical solo number, George Olsene will play "Stars and Stripes," the popular and familiar march in honor of the day, February 12, birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

Ralph Allan says as a reminder—"Tuesday is the day—for on that day we play 'Molly-O'—the never-to-be-forgotten picture."

'Boy With the Hats' Included in Program Offered at Glendale

James McNally described as "The Boy with the Hats" will be included on the new bill that is scheduled to open at the Glendale Theatre today. McNally has a distinctly unique act and gets a fund of laughter out of mere headgear. Johnson & Burke have "A Talking Novelty" which they announce as "all comedy" and which is bound to prove sure-fire, it is declared.

Morris and Block with their "Nonsensical Nonsense" is another act that has been a big success in every house along the circuit.

The Crouch Richards Trio offer "A Musical Festival" that is one of the most pleasing acts of its kind now in vaudeville, it is announced.

Road to Health and Searchers Upon Trail

Editor The Evening News—What do you hope to find at the end of the trail? It would be a hazardous gamble to guess what is most sought after in the mad search that is on, but far in the lead, and running about neck and neck, are the chasers for pleasure and the dollar, and the disappointment, depicted in the faces, of those who fail to reach the end of the trail, except to see the glamor of the shadow, as it fades out, in the distance, is most pitiful. A mighty bitter pill.

Not daunted by failure, in this search, the chase is renewed and, as the way is wended amidst the multitude, they soon come to forks in the road, and are bewildered at the multitude of branches and innumerable sign boards, each suggesting the road they should take.

A most attractive sign, reads—"If you are seeking health take this road."

Having read the sign, there is fierce jockeying for place on this road, and the chase is on, when all at once another forks in the road is reached, and more numerous and alluring signboards pointing in every direction but straight up.

A richly embellished sign reads—"Follow this road and it will lead you to where there is no pain, sickness, not even death"—just pass on—just keep passing on, there is no end to this trail.

Another says—"If you would reach old age take this road," but you will not travel far this way till you find it is full of don'ts and must nots, and the way is not crowded.

Still another points the way to old age, and there seem to be quite a number along the way, and they seem to be making good progress. are using coffee, tea, tobacco, eating anything good, not too much of it, have worked hard all the way, had lots of pleasure, and have accomplished great things for the world, and the end is not yet in sight.

Yes, and still another, urging you to attain extreme old age and prescribing a bill-of-fare, and shows you what those that passed the century mark lived on, and the number of those that used this simple food that lived past the 100 mark.

It is said that, in a little village in the Caucasus mountains, eighteen out of 120 lived to be more than 100 years of age, and their food consisted of soured cow's milk, cheese made from sheep's milk, and white bread. Some variety of diet—a hard blow on the opponents of white bread. Something more to think about if your digestive apparatus is not hitting on all four.

Yes, but here is the signboard, that does get the crowd.

It is painted red, which indicates danger, and talk about congested traffic, Broadway and Seventh in Los Angeles can't hold a candle to the crush and jam as they rush for first place on this broad highway.

This sign reads, "If your tonsils are swollen or tender, you will find a place right down here, where they clip them out, or adenoids removed, if a pain in the region of the appendix an operation sure, gas in the stomach, high blood pressure, and innumerable other conditions, corrected as you pass along this way."

Another board just recently nailed up, reads—"If you are sick and want to get well, keep right on this road, and keep talking about your sickness all the time and you will find it will leave you and health will return." I imagine it is a mighty long distance to the end of this trail, but take any trail that says health, and you will find searchers all the way along. If you are one of the searchers and your find, not satisfactory, you had better intensify the drive.

Employment Reports Submitted to Legion

Members of the American legion, Glendale post, held a regular meeting last night at headquarters on East Broadway.

Featuring the meeting was the report of the employment committee. These reports showed that every member of the American Legion requesting employment had met with success. A late applicant for a position remains to be disposed of.

The basketball team of the Legion is proving one of the strongest aggregations of its kind in the city. Members were urged to attend practice on Monday evenings to increase its strength and to arrange a team strong enough to compete with formidable opponents.

Preparations were completed last night for the "Inaugural Ball" to be held in the Legion hall next Friday night, February 17. It is planned to make the occasion heretofore unexcelled. The public is urged to attend. Tickets are now on sale by members of the American Legion.

AUTO PRICES HAVE MARKED TENDENCY TO GO UPWARD

Bottom Is Reached and From Now on Cost Increases, So Builders State

The trend of automobile prices for 1922 is upward, according to prominent automotive magnates of the east who are confident that the country is rapidly returning to normalcy.

They call attention to the fact that the automotive market has been improving for some time. They state that those factories, which were obliged to sell an over-production of cars made at war-time prices for labor and material at a loss recently in order to meet heavy interest charges and to provide capital for continuation of business, have now completed this task of liquidation.

They assert that the factories, which paid slight attention to efficiency during the peak of prosperity, have now thoroughly reorganized their factories and given considerable study to the matter of efficiency.

They remark that the public can expect little reduction in automobile prices in the immediate future because of radical improvements in efficiency. They declare that the public also cannot expect lower prices as the result of lower wages because salaries are now at the lowest point consistent with living expenses.

Prices To Go Up

On the other hand, automobile prices have a tendency to go up, according to authorities, because of the public's increasing demand for higher quality in each car. They call attention to the higher standards of workmanship and perfection now demanded in each automobile.

"The motoring public," stated one prominent manufacturer, "now insists upon speed, comfort and appearance. It refuses to consider the purchase of any car, no matter how economical, unless it embodies these three points. The increasing sale of closed cars emphasized the public's attitude toward comfort. This is being insisted upon even in the cheap runabout for business service. Of course, new improvements being added to automobiles to keep pace with the public demand for comfort cannot fail to increase the cost of production and raise the price somewhat."

Edwards & Wildey Co. Tract Proves Popular

Despite the stormy weather, the Edwards & Wildey company report they are fast selling their lots in their latest foothill subdivision on Kenneth Road.

W. J. Curren has purchased two lots on Pacific avenue and is to start the erection of a two-story Colonial on one of them at once. Mrs. A. M. Blau has also purchased on Pacific avenue. Vincent Salmacia, one of the owners of the Glendale Music company, has selected a lot on Columbus avenue for a future home. Mrs. Emily Murdock has also purchased on Columbus avenue. A 70-foot corner on Columbus was bought by William Windam for immediate improvement. Edward Walz bought 100 feet on Pacific avenue and will start construction of a home within ninety days. Mr. Walz selected the lot immediately adjacent for his brother, who is soon to come here from Pennsylvania. Thomas Jones selected two corners, one on Pacific on which he will start building within sixty days, and the other for investment. Mr. Farinacci is completing plans for a nine-room Italian tpye house of hollow tile construction and tile roof to be built on a corner of Dorothy Drive. The house will cost about $15,000. Mr. Boyd of the Glendale Lumber company has about completed plans for his home on the corner of Kenneth Road and Dorothy Drive and will start the construction of it as soon as the tract grading is completed. The house, of Colonial architecture, will cost about $12,000.

So enthusiastic are the members of the company over their subdivision that Mr. Wildey has selected a lot on Pacific avenue and is to build a two-story Dutch Colonial thereon, while Mr. Macpherson, one of the local representatives of the company, has chosen a lot on Dorothy Drive and is having plans prepared for a Spanish type house with outside stairway and roof garden which he will build on the lot.

HOUSTON L. WALSH, DIRECTORY EXPERT, BUYS MAXWELL

Drives Car 16,000 Miles During Last Year; Gets New One in Glendale

How much is a book worth?

Houston L. Walsh, publisher of the Glendale City Directory, says that if it is the 1922 edition of his publication it is worth quite a bit—nine dollars in cash.

And yet Mr. Walsh has just admitted that it is worth only one-hundred and nineteenth part as much as a certain automobile.

Recently, he dropped into the show room of the Glendale Motor Car company, 246 South Brand boulevard, for the purpose of delivering a directory.

Before he had departed, he had placed an order for a new Maxwell touring car costing $1070.

16,000 Miles in Year

"I drove my Maxwell 16,000 miles last year," declared Mr. Walsh. "My work takes me over all kinds of roads in southern California. It has cost me nothing except gas, oil and tires. That expense has been less than on any other car I have ever owned.

"The new Maxwell with its easy riding, all leather upholstering, increased body room and large comfortable cushions is going to make my traveling comfortable as well as economical this year."

SPEED KINGS TUNE UP FOR BIG RACE ON FEB. 22

Sput! Sput! Bang! Bang! They're off in the great 250-mile speed classic on the Los Angeles Speedway on February 22. The picture shows some of the race kings who will participate in the Washington birthday event.

Jimmy Murphy, international speed champion, has never been awarded a cup, or a medal, or any other trophy as evidence of his succession of victories on the speed trials of America and Europe. The only trophies that Murphy has are a few newspaper clippings and a nice little bank account.

Even the gold medal awarded annually to the winner of the French Grand Prix, has not been received by Murphy, although he swept the field in the foreign classic at Le Mans last July, in the most spectacular victory in the history of the motor racing sport. The French medal has not been awarded on account of the very strict laws regulating the shipment of gold between France and the United States, but the Automobile Club of France has offered, however, to send the dies to Murphy in this country so that he may, at his own expense, have a medal struck off.

The famous little speed merchant who is now tuning his Duesenberg up for the coming 250-mile race on the Los Angeles Speedway, scheduled for February 22, has won other trophies, but he has none in his possession. They have all been cups that must be won three times, and all that Murphy has is the satisfaction of knowing that his name is engraved on them as one of the winners.

"Guess I'll never get a cup," said Jimmy, while working on his car out at the speedway, "I'll never win one three times so I guess I'll have to be satisfied with having my name on them.

"I was disappointed when I did not get the French Grand Prix medal though. That would have meant a lot to me and I went up to get it a week after the race and was told that the directors of the Auto Club of France were to hold a meeting the next day. I returned to America and that is the last I have heard of the medal."

Murphy jumped into fame as a winner of the inaugural race on the Los Angeles Speedway in February, 1920. That was his third attempt as a driver after graduating from the ranks of racing mechanics, and from that day he has been in every race held in America, with the exception of two events staged here while he was in Europe winning the French Grand Prix. In this long string of speed battles he has never failed to finish in the money. This is a record that stamps him as one of the greatest of all speed kings and it is little wonder that he is already a favorite in the coming 250-mile Los Angeles race.

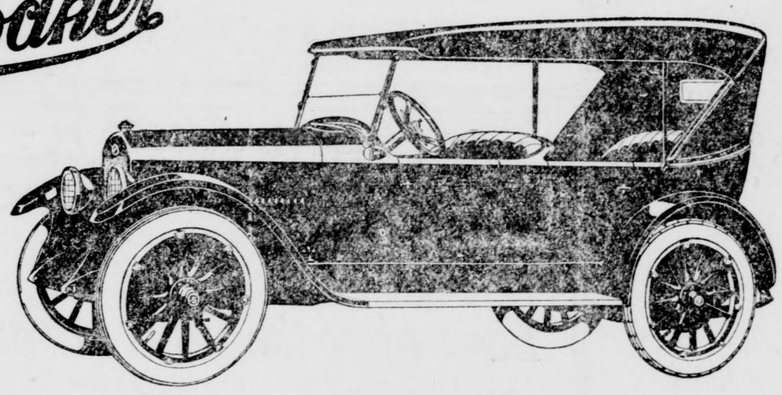
Studebaker



A SIX for the Price of a Four!

You can buy a Studebaker LIGHT-SIX today at a four-cylinder price!

But you cannot buy Studebaker LIGHT-SIX performance in ANY Four.

You get more for your money in the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX than in any other car in the thousand-dollar class. Because:

(1) Studebaker had the biggest volume in its history in 1921.
(2) Studebaker sales in 1921 were 29 per cent greater than in 1920 while the total of all other makes was 45 per cent less than in 1920.
(3) Studebaker is the world's largest builder of six-cylinder cars—builds nothing but sixes.

Studebaker builds the LIGHT-SIX for less than it costs most manufacturers to turn out a four, because it is produced complete in the Studebaker plants.

The average list-price of the better-known fours is $1200. This does not include the high-priced fours. The Studebaker LIGHT-SIX Touring Car lists at $1275 here.

Studebaker builds economically and sells at a low price because of continuous large volume, efficient production and skillful purchase of materials.

The Good

MAXWELL

Ten Baseball Clubs Fined by Judge Landis

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Secret agreements between ball clubs and the manipulation of player transfers are expected to be less frequent as the result of a fistful of decisions laid down by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner. Ten baseball clubs will pay fines totaling several thousand dollars as the result of these decisions.

The Cincinnati club will pay Pitcher Cliff Markle $4000. Markle was sent to Atlanta by the New York Yankees under a secret agreement. Later Cincinnati obtained him from Atlanta for a couple of players. New York protested the sale, but later withdrew the protest when it learned that the secret option was a violation of the baseball rules. The Cincinnati club is penalized because the player was entitled to become a free agent on the strength of the secret agreement and any club signing him would have to pay that amount at least for his services. If the $4000 is not paid in ten days, Markle becomes a free agent.

Because of what Judge Landis believes was a plot by the Toledo, Fort Worth, Joplin and Charlotte clubs to beat the draft rule in connection with the transfer of Player Lloyd Smith, the Toledo and Fort Worth clubs were fined $500 each and Joplin and Charlotte $750 each.

Fordson Tractor Now Used at High School

Ford's son is now enrolled in Pasadena High school, according to Jesse E. Smith, local Ford agent, who stated yesterday that a "Fordson" tractor has been purchased by the Crown City board of trustees. This has been put into use in demonstrating modern farming methods to the agricultural class. Faculty and students have bidden good-bye to "Old Frank," who has served for many years, and have shared their lunches with him for the last time. The first day the new "puller" was hitched up, five new students enrolled in the class.

STORM, WATER, MUD UNABLE TO HALT NASH SIX CAR

Unusual Trip Is Taken Over Desert Roads That Are Almost Impassable

Motorists seldom care to make the trip across the desert from Arizona in the winter time if there is any danger of rain or storm for certain portions of the route lie through silt and clay formations that turn into sticky, gumbo mud after a few hours of rain and make the way almost, if not quite, impassable by motor car.

On the morning of January 26 Charles H. Bigelow, secretary of the Arrowhead Trails association, left for Phoenix to inspect the highway route between Los Angeles and that city in a Nash Six that had already seen 12,000 miles of service. Mr. Bigelow was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Reba Sorenson, her daughter Beatrice, and James Comber.

Driving on a twenty hour schedule Phoenix was reached the following morning at 4:30 mountain time. The first 140 miles of the route lies over a well-improved road by way of the Coachella Valley. From Mecca to Blythe (ninety-three miles) the road improvement consists of clearing the brush and leveling, no attempt at surfacing having been undertaken save over the areas of drift sand. Fair going was encountered to Desert Centre, but the next twelve miles was one succession of chuck holes and cross washes.

Detours Necessary

After leaving Blythe it was necessary to travel by detours through the Colorado river bottom to the Ehrenburg ferry. From Ehrenburg to Buckeye the heavy winter storms have made water-courses of the barrancas, lakes of silt flats, and rivers out of the arroyos. Despite these conditions Phoenix was reached on schedule.

The following Tuesday the Nash party started their return despite the fact that during Sunday night and all day Monday it had rained heavily and continually. Bottomless quagmires, in which the Nash was five times bogged to the running boards, accounted for the slow going, but the party came through safely to the Gillespie Dam at the Gila river where they found that rising floods already were pouring their high waters over the top a foot in depth at racing speed and 2000 feet across.

From the river to Gila Bend the going was fairly good—there was no mud deep enough to cause serious trouble. At Sentinel the Nash party was informed that theirs was the first car to come through from Phoenix since the storm.

Then Comes Deluge

Then with Mrs. Sorenson acting as relief driver, the Nash Six was headed for Yuma. Seven miles from improved highway lay the town of Willsville. "Seven miles" sounded easy, but two and one-half miles out came the deluge. Two miles of the worst gumbo mud—black, sticky, slippery adobe, spotted with sink holes and water-filled ditches followed. But Yuma finally was reached and supper, bath and bed prepared the party for the long leg of the journey by way of San Diego.

Everything was going nicely until Mountain Springs was reached when snow met the party. Red mud mixed with snow and eight touring cars stuck on the Jacumba summit "cheered" the Nash party on and they reached San Diego at midnight, coming on the next morning to Los Angeles after 1200 miles of strenuous travel in less than a week. But they are satisfied with the performance of the Nash Six. It stood up wonderfully.

J. B. Marleau Receives Court Ruling on Fruit

Horticultural Inspector J. B. Marleau of 626 North Howard street is in receipt of a communication from the office of the Los Angeles county horticultural commissioners relative to the San Bernardino court decision in frosted orange case, which is in part as follows:

"County horticultural commissioners and other officials engaged in enforcing the clause of the California fresh fruit and vegetable standardization act prohibiting the packing and shipment of seriously frost damaged citrus fruits, believe that the recent action of Superior Judge Rex B. Goodcell at San Bernardino, in dismissing the case filed against certain Redlands packers because of a technical error in the filing of the complaint, will prove a considerable benefit in enabling them to avoid technical mistakes in future prosecutions. The court ruled that the complaint was improperly drawn in that it alleged that the defendants had committed a misdemeanor in violating the rules and regulations of the state director of agriculture. If it had alleged that the defendants had violated the fresh fruit and vegetable standardization act, the case must of necessity have come to trial.

"The ordinances now in effect in each of the citrus growing counties, making it unlawful to ship fruit showing fifteen per cent or more marked evidence of frost injury in two or more segments, and the regulations of the state department of agriculture which forbid the shipment of fruit if more than fifteen per cent show marked evidence of frost injury in two or more segments, still determine the standard of inspection, and are in no way nullified in any part of the state by the San Bernardino court decision."

Home after the day's work—

—to receive greetings from the loving wife and smiles from contented children—

that's Paradise

—Every man who has experienced this thrill of home-coming will tell you that all the sacrifices that you may be called upon to make, all the extended efforts that you may put forth in making home ownership a reality is more than repaid every day in contentment, united thoughts for love and in pride of possession.

—He would not exchange places with kings, great wealth holds no glowing inducements for him; he lives in a heaven all his own and gets real enjoyment from his daily labors because the reimbursement from his efforts are utilized for the making of home joys.

—The wife and kiddies receive his very first considerations; it is through them that great happiness comes to him. He takes pleasure in adding conveniences to the home, appreciating fully every burden he can lighten —every step he can save the wife means that many more cheerful smiles for him.

—Prudent men know, too, that successful men and women receive their training for success or failure, for good or for bad during the early years of life. Children need then, more than at any other time, home teachings, ideal environments and thoughtful care, such as only real homes give.

The Home Is The Cradle Of Democracy

It has been said with truthfulness that "the home is the cradle of democracy." Americanism was founded on the platform of freedom and independence and in home ownership we fully realize the meaning of these two American ideals: Freedom from the waste and burden of paying rent and independence in the shelter and protection we are privileged in giving our loved ones. Nothing can promote more happiness and contentment in a family than the possession of their own home and appreciating this, our every effort should be toward attaining and maintaining ideal homes, for everything we do to aid success and even success itself can be rightfully measured by the happiness and contentment that comes from home ownership.

GLENDALE'S CHANCE ON DIAMOND THIS YEAR IS GOOD

Plenty of Baseball Material Seen for Red and Black Squad for Season

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

Although the basketball season is but half over and Glendale high school's three casaba tossing entries in the various classifications of the Central league pennant race are still "going strong," a considerable amount of interest is being worked up among the students regarding the chances of the Red and Black baseball team for 1922.

The national pastime has always been recognized as a leading sport at the local institution and the coming season will be no exception, as is evidenced every afternoon by the presence of more than a score of diamond candidates loosening up the "old soup bone" on the water soaked athletic field.

The fact that Coach Hayhurst will have six letter men from last year's aggregation is proof for the claim made that Glendale will have the best chances for a championship than at any time during the last few years. With this two-thirds of a required squad it should be an easy matter to unearth three "finds" from the ever increasing student body.

Backstop on Job

In the catching department Coach Hayhurst will be well fortified with Tommy Morgan, last year's first string receiver, and one of the leading hitters on the team. With the benefit of a year's experience under his hat, Morgan should develop into one of the leading backstops in the circuit.

The other end of the battery, which is naturally the most important position on the squad—that of pitcher—will be held down by "Minnow" Aageson and Dale Wood, first and second string hurlers, respectively, of the 1921 team. Several "unknowns" are reported to be planning to make strong bids for mound duty.

In the infield Coach Hayhurst will have little chance for worry with "Pete" Fruhling, "Spark Plug" Wilson and Dutcher back from last year, and such sterling performers as Chet Green, John Server and several others from the less experienced array of talent. Fruhling, who was one of the moste fficient shortstops in the Central league last year, is the best prospect that the Red and Black institution has unearthed since "Lefty" Herman.

Good Material Provided

The other side of the keystone bag will be held down by Wilson, he having played second throughout most of the 1921 season. With the expected improvement in the hitting department Wilson will furnish all that is desired as Fruhling's coworker.

Although "Fat" Dutcher cavorted in the outfield last year he is fast developing into a regular first baseman and is expected to land the berth over Server and a couple of less formidable opponents. The other side of the diamond, that in the direct vicinity of third base, will probably be taken care of by Chet Green, quarterback and star of last fall's football eleven.

The difficult corner has been a weak sister on Coach Hayhurst's squad for the past two years and special attention will be made during the next few weeks in overcoming the obstacle.

There are none of last year's veteran outfielders back on the job this spring and Hayhurst is spending a considerable amount of time on the many garden candidates. The three most likely prospects at the present consist of Mitchell, Clark and Aageson, the latter being a brother of the pitcher.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

In five years of the most severe competition, in both high school, college and A. A. U. competition, Charles Paddock the world sprint champion has run the hundred yards in ten seconds or less twenty-five times. This does not include heats, but are the official times of "finals," or an average of five times even or better for five full years. It is a performance that stamps the sprinter as one of the most consistent cinder short distance men the country has ever known.

Paddock first started running back in 1913 when he was attending grammar school and won his first title that year doing the "hundred" in 11 2-5. He repeated the next year and the year 1915 found him winning his district title and the county title the latter being won in 10 4-5 the first time he had "beaten" eleven seconds. From 1916 to 1919 he was running in high school and A. A. U. competition and from 1919 on in college and A. A. U. competition, and it was while at Pasadena high school in a meet against Manual Arts of Los Angeles that he first broke into real prominence by "breaking" ten seconds and in two meets against his opposing school made 9 4-5 seconds. Since that time his sprinting has developed and been phenomenal.

From 1915 to last year's season an analysis of his "hundred" yard times shows the following:

9 3-5 seconds five times.
9 4-5 seconds seven times.
10 seconds thirteen times.
10 3-5 seconds four times.
10 2-5 seconds eleven times.
10 3-5 seconds four times.
10 4-5 seconds, once 1915, grammar school.

His greatest successes have naturally been 1920 and 1921. Never once in these two years, in important races, has he been clocked in less than ten seconds. He ran the distance four times in "even time" in 1920 and just once last year. In 1920 he was officially clocked in 9 3-5 once and 9 4-5 twice, though the 1922 9 3-5 was never applied for as a record. In 1921 his great speed is best attested to by the fact that four times in the season he ran the distance in 9 3-5 and twice won races in 9 4-5 and once in ten seconds. Since 1919 he has never been clocked in worse than ten seconds, his three best times in 1919 being 9 4-5, 10 1-5 and 10 3-5.

And his speed has not alone been confined to the tracks in his state of California. In 1919 as a member of the U. S. team of the Inter-Allied games at Paris he broke the world's 200 meter record and equalled the hundred meter mark and the next year at Ebbets Field, New York made a world grass track record for the hundred meters as well as running well on top of the existing hundred meter record in different meets in Europe.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

As far as the Pacific coast baseball league is concerned, it is going hot foot after any forms of gambling which may raise its head during the coming season. According to President William H. McCarty, the recent ruling of Judge Truax of Seattle, is the strongest weapon that has been placed in the hands of those who are anxious to keep the gambling element out of the great national sport.

Judge Truax dismissed the action for $25,000 brought by James L. Finnosoy, against the Seattle ball club because he was ejected from the Seattle park on the charge of alleged gambling. The court held that baseball came under the same head as theatres, insofar as owners have the right to refuse admittance, or eject objectionable characters.

Heretofore club owners have been timid about ejecting persons in their parks for fear of law suits in the way of demands for damages. The ruling of Judge Truax shows the way as far as the rights of club owners is concerned. Every club in the coast circuit has shown a desire to keep the game clean and the news of the ruling has met with general satisfaction.

Freak golf contests may have attractions for the dubs and the attendant galleries, but they find no favor among the regular players of the sport who have a genuine love for it. Recently the Verde Valley Golf club of Jerome, Ariz., recently put on a "stunt" in which the competitors were started in flights of ten, each gang with an attendant and noisy gallery.

The player making the poorest score at each hole was eliminated.

In case of ties the agony was prolonged. According to the Jerome News, "there was a lot of fun for everybody—with the possible exception of the players, many of whom could not stand the joshing and some of whom could not even hit the ball when the claque got into real action."

These freak contests accomplish not the slightest good, but merely serve to belittle the grand sport. Sooner or later, the greens or tournament committees will probably see to it that their links are not converted into circus grounds by these stupid and senseless affairs. Certainly it does no good to a recognized golf club to drag the game to the level of a slap stick comedy.

The good that the importation of well-known golf stars has to a community in the promotion of the game is evidenced by the fact that throughout the Pacific coast, where Hutchinson and Barnes have been playing, it is reported that there has been a marked increase in attendance both on municipal links and on the courses of private clubs.

AUTO CLUB NEWS

Nothing can stop motorists from driving to southern California.

Adverse weather conditions on some of the transcontinental routes are laughed at by auto parties which have decided to visit this part of America during the winter, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

And so keen is the joy of the visitors upon arriving here that every party becomes a magnet for drawing friends to the coast, it is pointed out.

Automobile club officials are of the opinion that transcontinental motor travel to Southern California will increase by thirty-five per cent each year from now on, so strong has the lure of the west penetrated throughout the east. This lure is one of climate as well as touring conditions.

Every section of the southern part of California is being benefited this year by the unusual influx of motoring visitors, point out the auto club's touring officials. Every county in the state is being "inspected" by the new arrivals in a manner more thorough than ever before. The number of parties reaching here over the transcontinental routes this winter is one of the touring wonders of the year.

More than 100 parties a day are coming into the southern section from the east alone, and scores more from the north and from neighboring states. All calling at club offices make known their appreciation of the receptions tendered them everywhere.

Maurice Burke Hits Heavy Snow on Trip

Maurice Burke of 616 East Lomita avenue motored to Acton on Sunday to visit the ranch of his father-in-law, J. J. Reynolds. On account of the heavy snowstorm he had to break his way through. On the return trip his automobile had the misfortune to "encounter" a large snowball thrown by some mischievous boy, wih the result that the windshield was shattered.

Blanche Davenport Is Bridge Party Hostess

Miss Blanche Davenport of 1243 South Glendale avenue was hostess yesterday afternoon at a bridge party. The guests included Mrs. D. Andrews and Mrs. M. Bell of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ray Morrow, Miss Lucile Tholen, Mrs. O. Merrill, Mrs. T. B. Reavis and Mrs. Olaf Anderson of Glendale.

High score was made by Miss Lucile Tholen. During the afternoon refreshments were served and music enjoyed.

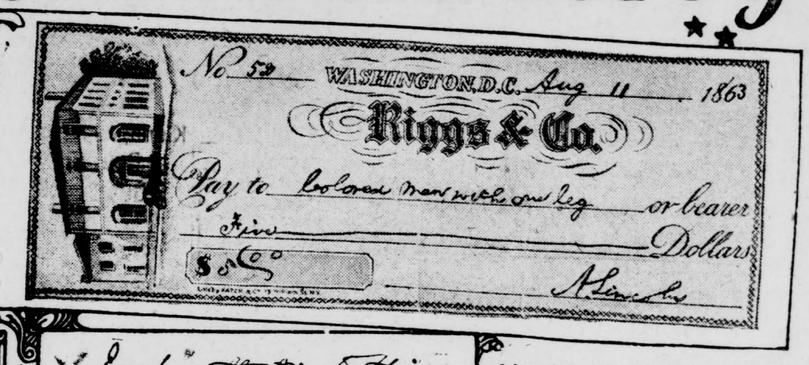
Abraham Lincoln the Man of Mercy

Sec. of War, please see the Pittsburgh boy— He is very young, and I shall be satisfied with whatever you do with him. A. Lincoln Aug. 21. 1863.

Note given by Lincoln to fever-stricken youth.



No. 52 WASHINGTON, D.C. Aug 11 1863
Riggs & Co.
Pay to Colored man with one leg or bearer Five Dollars
$5.00 A. Lincoln

Lincoln's hastily drawn check to crippled negro who stopped him in a park.

Abraham Lincoln, the Man of Mercy, was born 113 years ago today.

On a frontier farm that was little more than a clearing in the primeval wilderness of Hardin county, Kentucky, he made his obscure entry into life.

Had a soothsayer made a pilgrimage to the rude cabin that day, viewed its poverty and isolation, or spoken to the shiftless, illiterate father, he could have found nothing that foretold the man who was to steady a tottering nation's destinies—the giant in spiritual power who was to wage to victory the bitterest war of our history and still be acclaimed the Man of Mercy. The seer could have done no more than speculate vaguely on the "perfect number seven" present in the letters of his given and family names.

It is Lincoln, the Man of Mercy, that is particularly revealed in the group of almost priceless documents recently collected by G. Lynn Sumner for the library of the International Correspondence Schools. All of them are of great value and interest. One is wholly unique. For it preserves in one manuscript a plea for a soldier found asleep on his post; a brief endorsement by Senator Charles Sumner of Massachusetts, and finally a paragraph by Lincoln himself. It was a case in which Lincoln saved a guiltless man from execution, and as such is characteristic.

George C. Alden, of Company K, Seventh Massachusetts Regulars, had fallen asleep on his post. His offense was to be punished by the most disgraceful death a soldier may die. The fact that he was subject to fits he was powerless to struggle found of a sleeping sickness against which no place for consideration in the crude, summary justice of the field. He was asleep on his post and the sequel was death.

Lincoln Saves Guiltless Man

As he awaited the execution of a court - martial's decree. Samuel Breck, a friend and fellow townsman, heard of his plight. In a letter to Sumner, he set all the facts before him. Sumner's endorsement on the back of the letter, by which it was referred to his Commander-in-Chief, is as follows:

"I ask attention to this letter from an estimable citizen hoping that proceedings should be delayed against George C. Alden, Co. K, Seventh Mass., for sleeping at his post.

"CHARLES SUMNER."

Then follows Lincoln's respite:

"I know nothing of this case—know not where Mr. Alden is—whether any proceedings are on foot against him—I should not knowingly let him be punished, if shown he has the infirmity stated in the affidavit, though the infirmity may be sufficient reason for dismissing him from the service.

"A. LINCOLN.

"May 21, 1862."

Although the saving of the Union never drew upon the time and energy of Lincoln more than in the dark days of '62, he found time to pen with his own hand an opinion that placed human values above an inflexible discipline.

Letters Show Kindly Heart

In the collection at the Scranton institution are scores of original documents concerning Lincoln, his Cabinet and his Generals. Where original documents cannot be obtained there are faithful replicas. Virtually all of them reflect the great, kindly heart of the martyr.

In the days of the Civil War, every soldier knew Lincoln for his friend. Reports of many cases where he used his personal influence to secure some right or favor for a soldier were in constant circulation. From the time the first troops arrived in Washington in April, 1861, until the end of the war, the town was full of men, most of them wanting to see the President.

In the beginning they were only curious and their requests were usually trivial. But after the battles of Bull Run and Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, the soldiers of Washington were changed. They hobbled about on crutches. They sat pale and thin in the parks, empty sleeves pinned to their breasts. And when they came to the White House it was to beg furloughs to see dying parents, or releases to support suffering families. Little cards and brief notes written for such men to proper authorities are treasured all over the country. But the total number of those he sent joyfully and thankfully away will never be known.

"See This Pittsburgh Boy"

Here is an example:

"Sec. of War, Please see this Pittsburgh boy. He is very young, and I shall be satisfied with whatever you do with him.

"A. LINCOLN.

"Aug. 21, 1863."

The "Pittsburgh boy" had enlisted at seventeen. He had long been ill with a fever and wanted a furlough. With the confidence every soldier had that Lincoln would help him, he slipped into the White House, by chance met the President and told his story.

One day Lincoln was stopped in a park by a negro with a pitiful story. The Emancipator did not stop to get his name but handed him a hastily written check drawn to the order of "colored man with one leg." Riggs & Company, of Washington, with whom the President banked, knew their customer and honored the unusual instrument.

When men raise one of their kind to be a hero in life, they straightway make him a demigod in death. Then comes a reaction from popular exaltation, and the same men gather all that was known about their idol to learn if he had feet of clay.

So it was with Lincoln, the Man of Mercy. And with every new document uncovered he passes more certainly to his niche in the shrine of national memory.

The discovery of chemistry and botany is credited to the Arabs.

Lincoln saves life of sleeping sentry.

I park attach'd to this letter from an estimable citizen of Iowa, that proceedings should be delayed against George C. Alden Co. K. 7th Mass. for sleeping at his post.

Charles Sumner

I know nothing of the case—know not where Mr. Alden is—whether any proceedings are on foot against him—I should not knowingly let him be punished, if shown he has the infirmity stated in the affidavit, though the infirmity may be sufficient reason for dismissing him from the service.

A. Lincoln

GUMMITE NOW USED MANUFACTURING EXIDE CASES

H. M. Parker of Autolectric Service Station Tells of Successful Experiment

Gummite is a new material now being used for Exide storage battery cases, according to H. M. Parker of the Autoelectric Service station, 107 West Harvard street. He expects to receive some of the new batteries as soon as they are available on the Pacific coast.

"The need has been felt for a battery case of more durable material than wood for a long time," declared Mr. Parker. "To meet this demand some battery manufacturers have turned to rubber. As a result, there are on the market batteries assembled in compartment cases made of a rubber compound. There is nothing new about them. Rubber compartment cases have been used off and on for many years—in fact, since the development of the first automobile battery for ignition work. However, experience has demonstrated the fact that rubber is not suited for requirements of service. Consequently, there has been developed to date no successful rubber case.

"During the war a battleship was sent to France especially to obtain the formula for the making of gummite which was then being used for cases to enclose storage batteries in submarines. The Electric Storage Battery company of Philadelphia, which manufactures the Exide battery obtained this formula and has been experimenting with it for some time.

"Gummite is said to be the only known material outside of rubber which has the proper acid resisting qualities and at the same time can be fabricated to have proper mechanical strength. This compound has characteristics which are far superior to rubber.

"This development again demonstrate's Exide's ability to point the way."

BUS PERMIT BEFORE UTILITIES BOARD IN L. A. MONDAY

C. D. Gulick, City Traffic Head, to Press Glendale's Claims for Right to Operate

the Railroad Commission of the State of California."

Tells Board Its Duty

In regard to the argument made at the last hearing by one of its members that the Board of Utilities would be establishing an inconvenient precedent in granting the permit, Mr. Gulick remarks:

"Allow me to state that I believe it is the duty of this honorable board to weigh carefully before granting permission as prayed for and to seek all possible information that would help this board in determining the fair and proper course to follow."

Mr. Gulick tenders to the board the use of the data on the subject, which he has collected during the present investigation, and says that much of it should be of considerable value.

"The city of Glendale does not intend to engage in the practice of doing any local business within the city limits of Los Angeles," asserts the petition. "If given permission to operate motor busses within the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles, it will allow no one to ride other than those desiring through transportation. As a means of safeguard it agrees not to accept any fare less than the minimum fare from the city of Los Angeles to the city of Glendale."

"Allow me to further point out to you," continues Mr. Gulick, "that it has been my experience that the local business in the conducting of through business interferes with same and is not desirable."

Called Baffling Problem

The present situation, according to Mr. Gulick, provides "one of the most baffling problems of municipal administration and one which, I believe, confronts the city of Los Angeles as well as the city of Glendale. Until it is solved, these cities cannot expect to receive all possible advantages due to them in the future.

"I further call your attention to the findings of the railway commission in the recent Pacific Electric railway application for increased rates. They say that motor busses should be given an opportunity to prove their usefulness as a means of successful transportation.

"You can move more people per seat by bus than by trolley car in a great deal less time.

"The street car operating on its fixed tracks and crossings is the basic cause of congestion which costs the people untold millions in the loss of time. The traffic has to accommodate itself to the trolley car. The trolley car in turn is impeded by the traffic owing to the inflexibility of its cars. In contrast, the motor bus is flexible and adjusts itself to the traffic.

No Tracks Required

"It is a further well-known fact that, when street cars break down or fail to proceed, the traffic is tied up sometimes for hours. The flexibility of the busses permits the bus to proceed around the stalled vehicle or in the event of other obstructions not passable to alter its course via other streets.

"The motor bus requires no tracks. This would permit cities to keep their streets in better order and at a less cost, would reduce the wear and tear on other vehicles and would diminish the number of accidents.

"Loading and unloading at the curb, the motor bus would relieve one serious cause of congestion. The constant stopping of streams of traffic is caused by the unloading and loading of trolley cars in the middle of the streets. This, too, would have an important effect in eliminating frequent necessity of people braving the current of traffic by going into the middle of the street to get to a car.

"This danger, under the trolley system has necessitated the setting aside of safety zones on the streets. With the trolley system eliminated and busses in operation, these zones would be unnecessary and these spaces would be restored to the roadway for the use of vehicles.

Would Be Profitable

"Motor bus operation under public ownership will be doubly profitable to the people of the city. It will preserve to them the five cent fare, saving for them the extra cents and nickels demanded by the traction interests for service over their slower, uneconomical lines. It will, moreover, earn profits for the city and thus supply funds for needed municipal purposes which would otherwise have to be provided by taxes.

"We ask that your board give the people of Glendale, your neighbors, immediate relief from their present high cost of transportation by granting the city of Glendale a permit to operate motor busses."

Proclamation

The Boy Scouts of America, an organization chartered by act of the Congress of the United States and devoted to the welfare of boys and the making of good citizens, is this week entering upon its twelfth anniversary.

In common with other observing citizens, I believe that the program of the Boy Scouts of America reveals the way, quickens the pace and illuminates the path that leads to true and noble citizenship among our boys.

It is fitting, therefore, that we, at this time, give due recognition to this great organization.

I, therefore, do hereby recommend the period marking the twelfth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement in America, February 8 to 14, be observed in this city as "Boy Scout Week," and I strongly urge every man, woman and child in the community, for that period at least, adopt the Boy Scout habit of "doing a good turn" to some one each day. I further recommend that all citizens of this commonwealth become familiar with the spiritual and chivalrous quality of the Scout oath:

"On my honor, I will do my best:

One—To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout law;

Two—To help other people at all times;

Three—To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor.

SCOUT BADGE GIVEN MAYOR ROBINSON AT CEREMONIES

Impressive Gathering Held at City Hall in Behalf of Anniversary Week

according to the Scout oath, jails would be empty and wars would never be.

"There is an old hymn, the words of which were written by Rev. W. A. Spencer, an uncle of mine. The title of the song is 'Help Just a Little.' The words of the chorus are these:

" 'Oh, the wrongs that we may righten,
Oh, the skies that we may brighten,
Oh, the hearts that we may lighten,
Helping just a little.'

"When we get together, we are going to learn that song for you needn't think for one moment that I am going to be just a tenderfoot Scout or an honorary tenderfoot Scout—I am going to be a 'regular Scout.' I have seen a few honorary pallbearers, and I don't want to see any more. Before many years roll around, I'll make you regular Scouts think this honorary tenderfood Scout is a regular Scout, too.

"The Boy Scouts of America is an organization that is developing our boys into greater boys and they will grow into greater men.

"Glendale is ahead, underneath, above and behind this organization.

"I thank the Boy Scouts of Glendale for the great honor it has bestowed upon our city."

George W. Peters Is Guarded by Officer

George W. Peters of 634 West Broadway who was held up recently and relieved of his wallet, in the yard at his home, is now protected by a patrolman. Mr. Peters seldom carries any large sum, and never has a large wallet hidden, but it became generally understood, in the excitement o fthe robbery, that he had a large sum upon his person, which was not taken. This is a mistake, as Mr. Peters banks his money always, and seldom has as much on hand as he carried the other night.

Mrs. Julian Hayward Bridge Party Hostess

The invited guests include Mrs. Judson Seelye, Mrs. William Silvester. Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. Chapple, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. John Bibb, Mrs. E. Payson Hayward, Mrs. Shepherd and the hostess, Mrs. Julian Hayward.

BUNGALOW MADE OF GLASS! EH, WHAT? OH, YES! GLASS!

erect a sample glass bungalow in the East as soon as possible.

A perspective drawing and a floor plan for this bungalow are already in the possession of Mr. Shields. The floor will be of concrete in which suitable wooden two by fours will be imbedded to support the roof structure. The roof in this case being of a simple type, will be made of glass shingles. For complicated roofs, however, Mr. Shields favors the use of light, asbestos shingles.

The sides of the house are to consist of an outer and inner thickness of glass plates affixed by screws to the wooden framework. These plates are not to be wider than three feet and will probably be six or eight feet in height. They will be made out of thick, tinted opalescent glass similar to that used in office doors. They will admit light but will not be transparent. It will be necessary to install regular windows.

Between these layers of glass will be an air chamber which will have the effect of maintaining an even temperature in the interior of the house. Mr. Shields believes that this house will be comparable in temperature with one made of hollow tile—being warm in winter and cool in summer.

The inside walls of the house will be of Florentine glass embodying an attractive and artistic design which will eliminate the use of wall paper. The partitions of the house will be made of glass plates, also.

Cheapness is one of the advantages in favor of the use of glass in home construction, according to Mr. Shields. He is positive that it will be possible to erect a house with this material for at least one-fourth less than would be the case with the use of any other building material. He calls attention to the fact that the elimination of most of the lumber would be a big item. Mr. Shields also mentioned the fact that no paint would be needed either for the exterior or interior.

As the house would be practically fireproof fire insurance would be unnecessary. Mr. Shields admits, however, that tornado or similar insurance might be desirable. He does not deny that the glass plates might be easily broken by anyone with vicious intent but suggests that the glass plates would be cheap enough to be easily replaced. He says that the same argument might be advanced against the use of breakable windows in houses of all types.

"Nobody is going to stand outside and throw rocks at my house," declared Mr. Shields, "not while I have any pep left."
